

The Queenslander Pictorial.

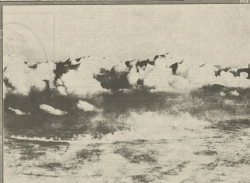

ON THE LINE OF BATTLE.

The Great British Advance in the West.

Observing line and direction, men
ready to advance.

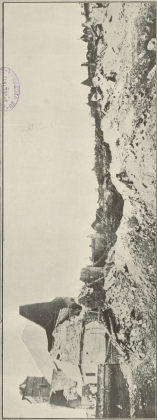

German Gas Mask
Seen From the Clouds.

A photograph of a German gas mask
seen from the clouds in the trench during the battle.

British troops advancing in the trench during the battle.

THE DESTROYERS.

A French village at the German advance. The mine crater in foreground is impeding the British advance.

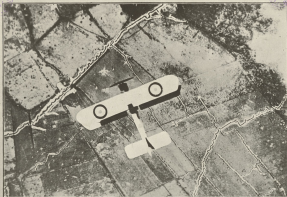

Trees and wreckage laid across the roadway to impede the British advance.

The Village Blacksmithy, Up To Date.

Her son Frank, having joined up, Mr. Heath, the wife of a Ripley (England) blacksmith, has taken his place at the forge and helps her husband from early in the morning until late in the evening.

The Aerial Artillery Guide.

This remarkable photograph shows a reconnaissance airplane flying over the trenches at a height of 2000 feet. The photograph was taken from the fighting post which was flying general bombardment for some in order to prepare [arm] hostile aircraft.

